From What Mr. Vance Says the Contruted Scats Will Not Come Up Just Yet.

Wasserson, April 5. Senator Vance stated this afternoon that nothing would be done this season in the matter of the contest for the seat of Mr. Martin, the senator from Kansas. He said that it would be impossible to take it up at this time, for the reason that as soon as the president signified his intention of submitting nothing more to the senate the body would adjourn. If the president keeps the senate here sufficiently long, he believes it may be possible to secure a vote on the Mantle case, but he does not think such a result likely. The general impression is that the senate will adjourn one week from Saturday night.

They Do Not Wish the Russian Treaty to Be Made Public.

Westernaryon, April 5:- The session of the senate this afternoon, behind closed diers was devoted entirely to couline matters. The Russian treaty was not mentioned and it is now considered doubtful whether the senate will release the text of that treaty we as to permit the public to know its exact purport. HE WAS A SURPRISE

Hawaiians Expected Other Commissioners Besides Blount.

DECLINED THE QUEEN'S COUPE

The Annexation Sentiment Has Grown Rapidly Dospite Germans, Japa and British Minister Wodenhouse.

HONOLULE, March 25.-The United States revenue cutter Rush arrived here this morning, nine days from San Francisco, having on board ex-Congressman Blount of Georgia, who was appointed commissioner to investigate the existing condition in Hawaii and report as to the expediency of the annexation of the islands to the United States. As soon as the cutter was nighted off Koko Head at 9 a. m. a business man went to work and in a short time the streets and buildings were covered with flags and bunting. The townspeople turned out en masse, and by 11 o'clock, when the Rush entered in Naval row, the docks and streets were crowded.

The mail steamer Australia, which was scheduled to leave at noon, was held back, and from her deck the band of the provisional government welcomed the new arrivals with the strains of the "Star Spangled Banner."

A delegation from the Annexation club was hastily formed and welcomed the commissioner from the boat landing. Dr. J. S. McGraw, chairman, and Presi-dent F. Scott and General Hartwell as a committee from the Annexation club, Minister Stevens, Major Robertson, the queen's chamberlain, and the newspaper correspondents put off to the Rush to pay their respects to the newcomer.

The people are a good deal surprised and not a little disappointed at the fact that but a single commissioner is being sent out on this errand. They had anticipated that at least three would come, and one of these it was believed would be Admiral Brown, who has a great many friends among the natives. The native ladies had arranged to give him a warm welcome when he arrived, and had completed preparations for a most elaborate native feast, whereby, with the potent aid of roast pig, champagne and poi, they hoped to win the hearts of the commissioner and restore Liliuokalini to the throne. Some one hundred and fifty of them. arrayed in white helokus and carrying Hawaiian flags, paraded down Fort a reet to the inter island wharf to meet Admiral Brown. When they learned that he had not come, they paraded back again. The ex-queen, it is said, went to the expense of having her carriage re-fitted for the purpose of carrying the admiral from the wharf to the commission headquarters. It was at the wharf when the commissioner came ashere.

in a public hack to the Hawaiian hotel. Annexation Feeling Grows. The Rush brought dispatches from Washington to Admiral Skerett and also the provisional government, but the nature of them could not be learned. After the first feeling of surprise had passed away, expressions of satisfaction at the arrival of the commissioner prevailed among the annexationists. Rush brought no mail from the states. and the arrival of the Rio De Janeiro, which is expected to put in here tomor row on her way to China, is , waited for further particulars as to the sentiment in America.

The steamer Australia sailed from Honolulu on March 29. The annexation feeling is stronger than ever and it is steadily growing. While the foreign element of the country is fast becoming a unit on the subject, the natives are also fast being won over.

The Gazette of March 28 says: "The fullest investigation is courted by the friends of annexation. Such inquiry can only show that the moral and terial interests of Hawaii are dependent upon annexation to the United States, and that the United States cannot either with profit or honor take a single steb backwar L'

PHELPS SURPRISES ENGLISHMEN The Bering Arbitration Matter Takes

an Unexpected Turn. Pages, April 5.- The Bering sea cou of arbitration resumed its session at 11:45 a.m. today. E. J. Phelps, counsel in behalf of the United States, continued his argument. He contended that the Brittish supplementary report was inadmissible. The admission of new evidence at this stage, Mr. Phelps said, was a gross injustice to the United States because it deprived the United States of any chance to adduce rebutting

After luncheon Mr. Phelps continued his argument for the rejection of the supplementary report of the Bering rupted several times by an exchange of criticisms between the counsel for the two powers. he had not been aware of this. The whole report, he said, was untrust worthy, for although preliminary invesfiritish and American commissioners, the reports had been neither answered soc commented upon by the United States. The British report contained, moreover, a large amount of heresay arguments, conjectures and other mat tera quite unsuitable as evidence before

Sir Charles Russell, in his reply, said that he had not expected such conton of the legal character of the evi are as that introduced by Mr Phelps, He was extremely surprised that Great firstain should be charged with injustice in her conduct of the processings preliminary to the meeting of the court. There were, however, other questions than those of right to the Bering sea. The commission was dealing with the right of an open sea, in which were in volved other rights than these of Great Britain and the United States, namely the rights of mankind. In the matter of Great Britain's and America's rights the arbitrators must act strictly as judges; in the matter of the rights of mankind, they must acquit thousands

Sir Charles Russeit iden justified the production of the report of the Bering sea commission, arguing from the terms of the arbitration trenty between the United States and Great Britain. The court then adjourned. Upon its reassembling he will resume his argument.
